Logbook Suggestions

There is no standard one size fits all template for an EPIC logbook. Your logbook can take many forms, but should show the Plan-Do-Review cycle for each EPIC pillar.

- What were your ideas for the activity and how you collected them
- How you planned your activity (venue, gear, transport etc.)
- What happened during the activity
- A reflection on the activity - what went well/not so well
- What would you change/how would you do it differently next time

Include photos, videos, drawings etc in your logbook, and get as many of your section involved as possible. Maybe someone is a talented wordsmith, or a comic book artist! Maybe you have a budding videographer, or someone who can turn your adventure into a song! The sky is the limit with tracking your EPIC challenge, just make sure to cover the points above. You can have a mix of methods across the challenge - just make sure you can upload them to us in the end.

Submitting your Logbook

The logbook will be submitted through a Google Form in May 2027. Make sure to scan or take pictures of handwritten entries or drawings. Opening a Google drive might be an idea for the section, where entries can be uploaded easily as they are complete. Some suggestions for your folder:

- Make sure entries are saved with a clear label (date, activity, part of challenge) in the folder
- Have a Scouter as the main uploader for the section, and if youth members are sending content for the folder, make sure they CC another scouter or parent in communications with Scouters.

Some cool formats we got last year were:

- Photo albums
- Video highlight reels
- Typed logbooks with inserted pictures
- Instagram Accounts
- Blog Posts
- Hand-made Scrapbooks
- Activity reports and Notes
- Drawings and Doodles
- Anecdotes and handwritten Stories
- Receipts, leaflets, ticket stubs
- Contents of Beaver Memory Bags
- Signatures from people that helped the EPIC journey
- Activity Checklists/Plans/Brainstorms
