

Turk's Head Woggle

Materials: around 1.5m of Rope/Paracord/Electrical wire/leather cord

Step 1

Wrap the rope loosely around your hand so that it makes an x on your palm. The end going up is the working end and the end going down is the standing end.

Step 2

Wrap the rope around again.

Step 3

Move the working end to the left first going under the right strand then over the left strand.

Step 5

Create a hole by crossing the left strand over the right.

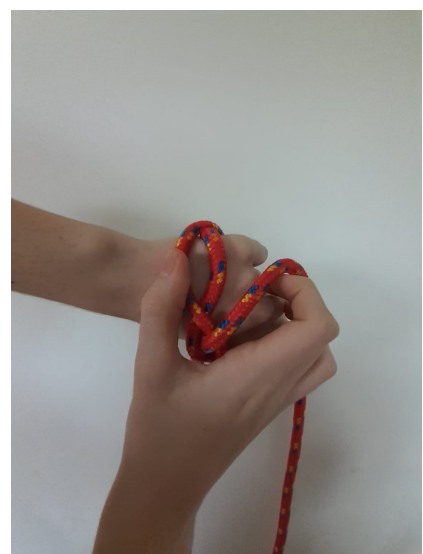

Step 6

Move the working end to the right going through the hole under the left strand then over the right strand.

Step 7

Open the second hole by making sure the right strand is still crossed over the left.

Step 8

Move the working end through the second hole to the left going under the first strand then over the second strand.

Step 9

Turn your hand back so that you now have your palm facing towards you.

Step 10

Beginning where the standing end comes out follow the pattern created by the rope to double up the knot. Once you have doubled up the whole knot you can repeat this step a third time if you want.

Step 11

You can also do this with paracord, electrical wire or a leather cord. You can also do it on 2 or 3 fingers instead of your entire hand in order to get a better size for a woggle.
